NASA e-Learning Portal

Under Construction

The NASA e-Learning Portal will organize and coordinate NASA training content to assist NASA learners accessing and locating training content. It will serve as the gateway to applications tailored to individual learners and learning communities, and serve as the single site to promote learning and training at NASA.

SOLAR-Site for Online Learning and Resources

<https://solar.msfc.nasa.gov>

Today SOLAR supports a growing user base in excess of 45,000 learners. Over 90 online courses are hosted on SOLAR and many more are in development. In the area of IT Security training course offering, Centers report that they're able to reach at least 95% of each targeted area with SOLAR courses.

Agency-wide Training and Development Program

<http://www.hq.nasa.gov/office/codef/codeft/>

This site offers some very valuable links to NASA Center Training Sites, SOLAR, APPL, and Leadership & Management Development, among others. In addition, the master schedule of agency wide training courses is available as well as links to the training facilities and training policies.

Gov Online Learning Center

<http://www.golearn.gov>

Gov Online Learning Center is a Government-wide resource that supports development of the Federal workforce through simplified and one-stop access to high quality e-Training products and services. The creation of this Center is the first phase of the President's Management Agenda e-Training Initiative and will continue to grow with additional products and services that meet the common needs of the workforce. Currently, there are 37 free online courses available. NASA is working cooperatively with Gov Online on a number of course offerings.
